

THE GAZETTE.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 8.

A FOREIGN SWINDLER.—Several months ago a foreigner called himself a Russian Count, and pretending to be Colonel of Engineers in the Russian Imperial service, made his appearance in this city, and announced himself as the agent of his Government to make contracts with certain engineering firms in this country. He hired an office downtown, and would occasionally show to those whose acquaintance he had made, plans of the work that was being executed under his supervision. He brought with him letters of introduction from many of the leading men of Europe, and these united to an easy bearing and good address, sufficed to gain him admittance into the most refined and exclusive society in this and neighboring cities. At Washington he was treated with marked consideration, was shown through the public buildings, and was allowed to inspect the navy yards at Washington and Brooklyn, and the fortifications in this city and elsewhere. Unfortunately, the expected remittance from Russia failed, from some unknown reason, to arrive, and the Baron was forced to appeal to his American friends for loans, and he borrowed from various persons sums ranging from $500 to $2,000, and amounting in the aggregate to $25,000 or $30,000. To one gentleman, who had loaned him at various times $1,500, the Baron said recently that his long expected remittance had arrived, and he made an appointment with his creditor to meet him on a certain day and go with him to a broker's to procure currency for his Russian gold. In calling at the office of the Baron, the gentleman named, the gentleman found him busily engaged in explaining some of the plans to a stranger, and as it would be impossible for him to go to the broker's on that day he begged the indulgence of his friend, and named another day. Before that day arrived the Baron had disappeared, and the police, on being informed of the circumstance, made inquiry and ascertained that a man answering the description of him sought for, had, on Wednesday last, taken passage in a steamer for Europe.—New York Tribune.
